@Becky: Okay, so ever since a few days ago I had been experiencing glitches with the forums. At first I thought it was just another bug with my device; all that was happening was that if I clicked a link, it would send me to the wrong page, or to this other page that I didn't recognize. But yesterday while I was checking the forums, I realized I couldn't go to 'My Posts'. I figured I might've accidentally signed out, so I went to do so. But when I clicked 'Sign In', it took me to a website with a format I didn't recognize. It was entitled 'Planet Pilkey', and the page was frozen. I couldn't scroll up or down, and the page crashes after a minute or two. After that I reloaded the page, then went back these forums via bookmark. I still wasn't signed in, and when I tried again it took me back to the Planet Pilkey page. About 20 minutes ago I thought to click a reply button, and it brought up the normal sign-in format. Do you have any idea what happened, or why? Drago and Wizard also had this problem, and Platinum I think.

I first posted this over in the 39 Clues MB and SAMB as those two are older and were hit the hardest of The Big Three MBs. I'll post this here now followed by the typical news post-

Before I do a normal news post I want to talk about what happened over the weekend with the post purge.

This was an event I knew might happen at some point, but I didn't know when and I thought it was a long way off. The timing turned out really poor, as it was Thanksgiving and most of us here were gone the past few days. So by the time I learned about it happening it was already, well, this morning. I want to apologize for not giving a warning as soon as I knew a post purge could occur and give you time to collect your writing and memories. This was without a doubt a mistake on my part and I'm really sorry, kind of failed the whole point of this announcement space. You can definitely be mad and upset and hurt.

What happened is posts that hadn't been active since 2016 were removed. This means posts that were bumped or had a comment in 2017/18, even if they were posted earlier than that, are still around. I know the majority of posts were lost but some from 2013/14/15/16 are still around because of that, I hope that retains a few of the memories you've made here. This also made me chuckle when I saw that it was still around so I hope it does the same for you, the Never Dead Thread literally might never die: <https://doublecross.scholastic.com/forums/topics/50577>

First, I'm going to talk to the site developers and find out if there's any way the posts were archived as opposed to deleted. I don't want to get your hopes up, I do think they were deleted, but I'll find out for you.

Second, I'm going to learn from this mistake and give a warning right now that even though we don't have any current plans for removing more content, I recommend saving anything on here you want to make sure you keep. It is 100% possible we will need to either clear up more space or retire old things for new things in the future (like what happened to the chat).

Again, I am very sorry. I grew up in messageboards and online games similar to here and it hurts that some of those spaces are just gone now. For what it's worth I can promise you that the memories you've made here will stick in your mind and turn into anecdotes you tell long into the future, even if the posts themselves are gone.

Hear yea hear yea, it chilly out there.

[Announcement]

I want to apologize for the lack of warning over the post purge. Defeated the whole point of these announcements. Please read my post about it just above this post, and don't be afraid to tell me how you're feeling. You can absolutely be mad and don't need to apologize for it.

A lot of things are being removed from the site like the chat and some MBs as I'm sure you've all noticed. We've moved pretty much all our resources over into building a new project, the one that I've been teasing. This is why we've had to cut down some older stuff that required maintenance. What's coming is a new world that is basically everything you can do here.... but more. You'll have more freedom in how you present yourself as there are avatars, you'll be able to chat with each other, have new games to play, and I'm planning a ton of new events and activities that will be in it. I want you to know we're not just getting rid of stuff for no reason or without any plans to have new things for you.

[Question Corner]

@Fallon thank you! I had a very cozy Thanksgiving and I ate a lot of pie. I hope you had a wonderful Thanksgiving as well :)

@Cora it will be part of the new project we're developing, which I can't give a date on. All I can say is I keep not realizing just how soon it will be coming @_@

@Lupa It's in the library! Next to "The History of Scholastica pt 2"

@Wizard is it your OCs for thread /347115? If so, the big reason it's getting stuck is your character names are too "real" aka the filter thinks you're giving out real first names and last names. You can try doing just a first name, or try making them more fantastical.

I found one more, and this one is less clear why it didn't make it through. It's your thread with a new RP about survivors after a sickness infects a town. First, I'd try submitting again, sometimes multiple submissions is the solution. If not, try removing some times you mention shipping/crushes. I know it's for an RP but that might be holding it up.

@Sorrel I posted your report in our team chat. I thought what could be causing it is a broken redirect, since Planet Pilkey is a part of the Scholastic site, but we couldn't reproduce it and the redirect seems to be working. So there are a few things I'd try that might help:

1. try in incognito mode
2. try signing in on the kids homepage first, and then navigating to the forums (this is the home page: <https://www.scholastic.com/kids/home/>)
3. It's possible an adblocking software is blocking the login overlay, if you have an adblocker you can try whitelisting the site
4. Update your browser, if it has updates pending
5. Try using a different browser if possible, and see if the same thing happens there

Those are some suggestions I have for you and anyone else who's having trouble with log-in. We're going to keep investigating, I know Angie had an issue with login as well and Nova has that weird issue with being logged out every time they close the tab. So there are a few things we're looking into.

@Boop yep, admin posts avoid the filter. Though there was an issue where my posts would get sent to the filter after they were posted (that's why we're on our third Town Square here >.< Apparently my posts got caught by the filter! Grr) but that's fixed now.

@Freedom Ha to be fair I haven't picked it up in a month or so (I've been busy playing Spiderman), but I play on PC and sometimes PS4! Before I joined here at Scholastic my coworkers and I used to hang around the office after work and play together. Now I need to find my Fortnite Scholasticrew.

@Scientist Listen the town square isn't going to just pay for itself u know! Real answer - I'm helping design the community features and events for our new project. There's going to be a lot of new content, and someone has to make it!

I honestly cannot wait for the new project, 1. when is it coming out, 2. will there be pets, and 3. please somehow put, like, a WoFRR easter egg in there somewhere, or a pet train or something, as the WoFRR is my own pet project and I would die IRL if you put that in. oh, and 4. are the avatars based on the sites? for example, for WoF, will the avatars be dragons?

[Announcement]

Wowee what a day! By the time I post this, the forums will be working again. Hopefully all my bazillions of posts titled "test please go through" don't come through all at once because that would both flood the forum and be embarrassing.

[Question Corner]

@Night 1. That's one thing I can't say yet! But I can hint that it's not too far off ^ _ ^ 2. No pets at launch but it's not a bad idea.... certainly something we'll think about. Would you want a pet train that would choo choo around following you? 3. Oh, I'm definitely making sure we include some easter eggs. 4. The avatars will all be human-based but there are a ton of items/outfits you can wear to customize yourself

@Delirium Found it! Alright, it's because you mentioned some external sites. Tbh I think the way you mentioned them is fine, but they still got caught. That's an edit I'm trying to make to the filter so fewer posts get caught unnecessarily, but it might still be a week or so before it takes effect. Changes happen s l o w l y

@Happeth Truthfully I'm not sure. Posts weren't even making it to the filter, which is how I realized something was really wrong (plus I tried to post and couldn't). It may have to do with the updates we're making to all the Scholastic sites, we're still trying to figure out exactly what happened.

@Violet Yes!

@Forest I'm sure we can find a way to retain the weird icon thingys!

@Freedom We don't have a launch date we can announce yet! As soon as we do this is the first place that will know it.

@Ishmael The initial release is going to be out there and open to everyone, but we're treating it as something of a testing phase. We'll base a ton of early updates and fixes on the feedback we receive.

[Forum Prompts]

You're walking to school one day and trip over a giant book laying in the middle of the sidewalk. You reach down to pick it up, it's old and dusty but seems to be in decent condition. Flipping through it, you see it contains the future of anyone in the world. You check the index for your name.... and you're not there.

Who would win - 100 tiny mudwings or 1 giant cow?

I go to my siggie to see the ban reason, and how long.

That is why I quit this website for a while.

Do you have any idea of why I get randomly banned with no reason?

Is it something my school can do?

[Question Corner]

@Gleam the no posting thing was a forums-wise issue that affected everyone. We're still investigating what happened there. As for your Neoma post, it's actually an example I sent to the filter developers as something that was being incorrectly tagged and filtered. Try submitting it again, I'm not sure if changes have been made yet to the way posts are being filtered but it can't hurt to try.

@Orion I looked into your account and while you aren't banned, sometimes you must be using the site on an internet connection where someone was IP banned. It sounds like this happens when you're going on at school. That means it might've been someone else there who was banned. I undid the IP bans and made them just normal bans, so you shouldn't run into the same issue!

@Grif Alas I am not really sure yet and I don't want to give wrong info. We're still looking into it.

@Oncilla Hahahaha the image of a bunch of tiny MudWings swarming like piranhas is so vivid! Also, there was just news about a GIANT cow (well, steer) in Australia named Knickers. I don't want to say my prompt predicted the news, but....

@Inferno I'm really looking forward to meeting her someday! I will give her your message when I do :)

@Violet Thank you!! :) I l o v e tea so that's really hard. My favorite is probably turmeric ginger tea, but I also really like rooibos.
